KAIST Full-time EFL Faculty Opening

EFL Program (efl.kaist.ac.kr) at Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (KAIST-https://www.kaist.ac.kr/en/), South Korea, is opening its search for a full-time position of EFL faculty. KAIST is Korea's most prominent and world-renown science and engineering institution. We teach most of the courses in English; therefore, English language education is given high emphasis. Our campus is located in the Daedeok Innopolis (http://innopolis.or.kr/eng/), Korea's R&D center, 150 km south of Seoul. It takes 50 minutes from the capital city, Seoul, by the Korean bullet trains (KTX & SRT).

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS:

- Master's degree in TESOL or Applied Linguistics;
- Native-like fluency;
- Minimum two-year teaching experience at the college level

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Experience in teaching EFL to science and engineering students
- Expertise in teaching writing in English for Academic Purposes (EAP) contexts
- Experience in CLIL/EMI (Content and language integrated learning/English-medium instruction)

DUTIES: Teaching 12 hours per week in spring and fall semesters; 2 additional weekly hours of teaching or tutoring; curriculum development; serving on committees, and performing other university-related responsibilities. (When teaching obligations are not fulfilled in the spring/fall, teaching in the summer/winter is required without additional pay.)

SALARY & BENEFITS: Commensurate with qualifications and experience plus other benefits.
